Subject: Letter to Mr. Pesutto

Dear Ms. Deeming,

>> On Saturday, I attended the Women's Rights rally, forum, call it what you will, with my daughter. The speakers spoke predominantly about legislation and language that dehumanises women and the intrusion of males into areas previously exclusive to women, toilets change rooms etc. Reference was also made to concerns about unfettered gender transition. The larger part of those present were women, with some men in attendance, there was absolutely no support or expressions in favour of hate groups. Those present would be appalled at being categorised as Nazi supporters.

>> There was nothing contained in Ms. Deeming's speech, or, indeed any of the speakers that referred to, or was supportive of Nazi ideology, if there had been we would have left immediately. It should be noted that during the speeches, police were at pains to keep people off the top of the Parliament's stairs. Consequently, it seems strange that the Nazi group gained access.

>> With respect, Mr. Pessuto, I believe that you have been misinformed, and I also believe that it was a calculated left wing provocation, very artfully stage managed. I would hope that Ms. Deeming ought be supported for speaking out about the vicious ALP legislation that is aimed at reducing the status of women.

>> Regards
