Dear Brad

Tim, [REDACTED] and I attended the let women speak rally yesterday.

We were very thankful for VicPol keeping back the rowdy and threatening trans right activists who did not want to let women speak.

The press reporting on what occurred is wrong. There are at least two full length video sources available showing that the guys in black who police walked past us and who did a nazi salute towards the trans right activists were nothing to do with the group of Let Women Speak audience listening to women speak.

It is one thing to read ridiculous narratives by Dan Andrews and Zoe Daniels. It is another altogether to read the leader of the Victorian Liberal party denounce us and announce publicly that he will expel Moira Deeming.

Tim and I would be happy to share with you our eye witness accounts of what occurred. We can also send you links to the two full video feeds that we are aware of. You have met the three of us (Tim, [REDACTED] and I - we all three of us campaigned for you. You know I hope that we are not extremists in any way, shape or form. I feel completely deserted by the Liberal party based on John Pesutto's statement.

Is there a way that rank and file members who were there can be listened to?

I am so incredibly distressed that this is what the Liberal party stands for in this state.
