Subject: Moira Deeming versus Daniel Andrew's medical negligence

Hello Georgie and John,
 Cc: Moira

I'm Susannah Oddi. I reside in [REDACTED].

I attended the #LetWomenSpeak speaker's corner on Saturday.

Georgie, many moons ago, our paths crossed briefly, I commenced as a Researcher with Talent2 just as you were leaving.

I don't imagine you would remember me.

I am an ordinary, middle class, middle income, middle aged, centrist.

I am a fiscal libertarian, and a social conservative.

I am not associated with any party, movement, or religion.

While I do not know Moira or Katherine, personally, I am acutely aware of the issues. Long story, my interest was raised during postgraduate research, and consolidated when I was working for a DEI start-up backed by an Australian tech unicorn. I have enough information to write a book. I wanted to share my thoughts with you.

Moira Deeming is the key to the Liberal Party regaining their strength, purpose and a supporter base. The UK has done all the work, they have all the resources, all the legal cases, and all the wording to reframe any narrative and defend all attacks.

I feel it would be better for the Liberals, and Australia, for Georgie to be on a plane on Friday to the UK to meet with Maya Forstater, Helen Joyce, Joanna Cherry and Hannah Barnes.

Heavens, Maya fought off Washington and Bill Gates.

Even The Times now calls Kellie-Jay Keen a women's rights activist.

This "anti-trans" bullshit is bullshit.

John, I think a press conference with Angela Jones and Nina Vallins by his side, would be a more appropriate thing to do on Friday. Apologising to the all the women who attended, acknowledging the monsterring of Angela Jones and Nina Vallins due to them straying from the left, and your part in it. There are many homeless lefties that need someone else to vote for.

If you had listened to the women speaking, you would have been directing your pitchforks at Adam Bandt instead of turning the pitchforks on your own.

The UK have realised this is not a "culture war".

Gender ideology and affirmation is as toxic and as dangerous as lobotomies.

State sanctioned child abuse.

The two largest rainbow lobby groups in the UK are toast.

The LGB and the Transsexuals have left, leaving only heterosexual middle-aged men with crossdressing fetishes with the kids.

Those kids still need to be saved.

UK Labor is petrified that they cannot beat an incompetent government.

The people would prefer an incompetent government to one that denies sex-based reality.

The UK women ousted Nicola Sturgeon and have reduced Keir Starmer to an incoherent idiot (I don't think that was a far push).

Women in the UK jumped up and down and kicked Sturgeon to the curb. This includes a cross-party team of women MPs who stand up for sex-based rights every day of the week. Even if it means telling their own party members to get stuffed.

Women in an Australia are just bigots.

Standing strong, and having Moira, for the radicals to attack will expose their lunacy. Australian women are ready to restore reality to the country. Australian women also have all the information to expose the absolute travesty that is the Andrews government and the Greens.

If you listen to these women you can plan policy that is based on reality and reason, and be ready for the next election.

Why does Daniel Andrews not want women to speak?

I can give you millions and millions of tax payer-funded reasons, all wrapped up in a bundle of abhorrent negligence. There are about 100 other women there on Saturday that could as well.

Here's the first $1 million. VEOHRC

Women have been campaigning against a man who raped his six-year-old daughter, and attempted to rape a woman in Melbourne, that is housed in a women's prison.

Multiple concerns. Respect for the victim in media reporting. A registered sex-offender, and reporting avoider, being prescribed hormones to alter his appearance. Crime statistic anomalies between arrests and convictions. As women say, #NotOurCrime

The VEOHRC's response to a written complaint, did not even attempt to empathise with the women in prison. It only addressed the vulnerability of the predator.

Meanwhile, VEOHRC leads a $1 million dollar, tax payer-funded, gender kumbaya super project which includes:

Funding a social worker to give evidence in court to ensure the above rapist was placed in a women's prison.
Creating a website directory to ensure anyone who fancies being castrated can quickly look up a doctor.
Creating programs to ensure all young women can access breast binders

Perspective ... Country Women's Association of Victoria received $140K in funding to assist in delivering millions of dollars of government natural disaster relief, because the government could not organise a chook raffle.

My Community Health Gender Clinics (Adult)

Next $3.5 million dollar reason

(not including prior funding under another organisation, and current funding now with TGV and Transcend lobby groups)

Daniels is rolling out the clinics staffed with contracting doctors, with their own liability insurance. The doctors must affirm every patient, else it is conversion therapy.

Most of Europe has retreated from this model, due to it being based on ideology and not medicine. The Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists do not support the affirmation only model. It is not surprising that the clinics have no doctors.

Gender distressed "clients" are affirmed and counselled by another gender distressed person, and that person then requires counselling because counselling is distressing.

(It builds on the success of the FASST program at the RCH Gender Clinic, where children meet with a nurse, rather than a doctor to ensure faster processing)

If those in need succeed in meeting a clinician, then they are put on medicalised pathway. Here is what is heading our way.

<https://twitter.com/HumanEvents/status/1636843220171907079?s=20>

This is Daniel Andrew's approach to the mental health crisis.

All outsourced, with no liability.
Enforcing an ideological approach that results in zero care being provided.

There were hints that it was wrapping up due to lack of funding, but from what I have seen, it is being rebranded and repackaged and with an additional layer of liability added for good measure. Rather than having their own clinicians, they are ramping up their RCH drug pushing program to GPs. Transcend is running this, they have expanded beyond children. They received a massive chunk of cash from Dan and the CEO has just returned from a tax payer-funded trip to Canada. Great conference if you want to learn more about affirming eunuchs. TGV are recruiting the peer activists, throwing in a TAFE certificate, so their plans to roll out an activist in every TAFE, Uni, Mental Health and Community Centre, across the state, and online, looks like it's still on track. Meanwhile, the program director from Your Community Health has landed a board spot, overseeing domestic violence shelters, so they probably are readying themselves for more "clients".

Given the shit show in the UK, this will be spun as some kind of heroic deed to provide even better care. I am no expert on this stuff, like Bernard Lane, but even I know this needs to be shut down. They are gearing up for the media storm (not that anyone in the media reports on anything).

The Chair of my Community Health has just been appointed to APC to review complaints. Transcend's Georgie Stone will be addressing the APC on the 4th April. Michelle Telfer has been seconded out of the RCH Gender Clinic.

Greg Hunt said he would lead a review on the clinics.
The Equality lobby bullied him out of it, saying that children would kill themselves if he did.

The UK was gusty enough to do one. The clinics are being shut down.

The recent investigative book on The Tavistock Clinic (the model on which the RCH is based) has been read by everyone in the world except for Australian politicians.

If all the Liberals had read that book, every one of them would have been on those steps on Saturday.

A PAC by any other name

The out-sourced greens that run the Equality department, and lead all the government task forces - are a tax payer-funded PAC.

Considering the inability of the Liberal Party to explain the Climate Action Network and the Teals during the federal election, and the inability to separate lobby groups and charities in legislature, the only way to break this insidious PAC and it's so called "grassroots" activism (grants timed and funded conveniently near election) is to crush it. NEGLIGENCE.
30 organisations decide on a single 6-point wish list for an election and the greens always have the same 6-point list (State and Federal)

The youth charities enter our schools write content like this:
<https://www.wearitpurple.org/blog/it-took-a-long-time-to-know-i-needed-top-surgery-lu-bradshaw>

Teachers can already be transition by schools without children without telling parents.
Now Youtube can!

... and women are bigots if we say #WearItPurpleDay is a disgrace.

Not mentioned ACON

or

US inspired Victory Fund (deleted for now, but the key conflict has since been eliminated).

They juggled around a few people and The Equality Project no longer being clocked as a Vic Gov supplier

nor

The training of "non-partisan" political candidates that produce all those reds and green councillors. Democracy sites

nor

Progress Australia, union equality grants, that equate to the same amount appearing on the Transparency Register.

ALL PAID BY US.

I appreciate, it is quite a stressful week.

I do hope you made it to the end of this email.

At the very least, I wanted you to know about us women. We won't be quiet.

Happy to have chat if anything here is of interest.

Thanks

Susannah

PS: I was leaning against the column on other side of the nazis.

I had no idea the nazis were there until I came home and saw it on the news.

I should not have to justify this, but I do want to say the women did not notice them.

If we did, we would have just kept on speaking anyway, not our place to teach random children how safely descend steps

This arm raising bullshit is just to incite fear and excuse further restrictions on liberty, for everyone, it won't stop at an arm, nor just nazis

Banning a nazi salute, just like the flag, is something only nazis would do

I'd prefer nazis to be clearly identifiable, so I can make sure I turn my back to them
