Hi Rebel,

I spoke to Len Blavatnik today who was called by your partner Ramona. She made some claims regarding myself and Gregor that we will need to interrogate further. I have been in intensive care all day with Gregor's mother who has had a massive stroke and is very very ill. To hear what she said today from Len at the hospital at this heartbreaking time really was something. If her sentiments echo yours, then I had no idea you felt this way about me, my character, Gregor or our company.

Len has asked for me to put together a paragraph explaining our recent negotiations. He's very concerned, as you are so unhappy, how we can plausibly move forward with this investment.

I have just got back from the hospital and will do this once Gregor is awake. Obviously he hasn't had much sleep while we've been processing Ramona's account of our working relationship.

No matter what happens next, I just wanted to say it's been a privilege and an honor to have worked with you and I am very proud of what we achieved together. If you do truly feel this way then I have never assessed a situation more wrongly in my entire career. I have spoken to Charles and Vince and personally, I am extremely disappointed and very very sad.

I think an urgent call is needed to discuss next steps. This movie represents the largest investment Unigram has ever made and we are now facing a situation that is putting both the movie and our company in jeopardy.

Until we hear from either you or Charles, I think it wise for us all to pause on work on The Deb.

I reserve all rights.

Yours respectfully

Amanda.
