PART II

Article 2

1. Each State Party to the present Covenant undertakes to respect and to ensure to all individuals within its territory and subject to its jurisdiction the rights recognized in the present Covenant, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.
2. Where not already provided for by existing legislative or other measures, each State Party to the present Covenant undertakes to take the necessary steps, in accordance with its constitutional processes and with the provisions of the present Covenant, to adopt such laws or other measures as may be necessary to give effect to the rights recognized in the present Covenant.
3. Each State Party to the present Covenant undertakes:
 - (a) To ensure that any person whose rights or freedoms as herein recognized are violated shall have an effective remedy, notwithstanding that the violation has been committed by persons acting in an official capacity;
 - (b) To ensure that any person claiming such a remedy shall have his right thereto determined by competent judicial, administrative or legislative authorities, or by any other competent authority provided for by the legal system of the State, and to develop the possibilities of judicial remedy;
 - (c) To ensure that the competent authorities shall enforce such remedies when granted.

Article 7

No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. In particular, no one shall be subjected without his free consent to medical or scientific experimentation.

Article 14

1. All persons shall be equal before the courts and tribunals. In the determination of any criminal charge against him, or of his rights and obligations in a suit at law, everyone shall be entitled to a fair and public hearing by a competent, independent and impartial tribunal established by law. The press and the public may be excluded from all or part of a trial for reasons of morals, public order (ordre public) or national security in a democratic society, or when the interest of the private lives of the parties so requires, or to the extent strictly necessary in the opinion of the court in special circumstances where publicity would prejudice the interests of justice; but any judgement rendered in a criminal case or in a suit at law shall be made public except where the interest of juvenile persons otherwise requires or the proceedings concern matrimonial disputes or the guardianship of children.

Article 16

Everyone shall have the right to recognition everywhere as a person before the law.

Article 17

1. No one shall be subjected to arbitrary or unlawful interference with his privacy, family, home or correspondence, nor to unlawful attacks on his honour and reputation.
2. Everyone has the right to the protection of the law against such interference or attacks.

Article 25

Every citizen shall have the right and the opportunity, without any of the distinctions mentioned in article 2 and without unreasonable restrictions:

- (a) To take part in the conduct of public affairs, directly or through freely chosen representatives;
- (b) To vote and to be elected at genuine periodic elections which shall be by universal and equal suffrage and shall be held by secret ballot, guaranteeing the free expression of the will of the electors;
- (c) To have access, on general terms of equality, to public service in his country.

Article 26

All persons are equal before the law and are entitled without any discrimination to the equal protection of the law. In this respect, the law shall prohibit any discrimination and guarantee to all persons equal and effective protection against discrimination on any ground such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.

Good afternoon [REDACTED]

I refer to the number of emails the registry has received since Tuesday.

As per my previous email, the Court can review some decisions made under the Migration Act 1958. These include some decisions of the Minister for Immigration, Citizenship and Multicultural Affairs, the Administrative Appeals Tribunal, and the Immigration Assessment Authority. The Court can only review a decision in order to determine if a 'jurisdictional error' has been made. Further information can be found on the Federal Circuit and Family Court website: <https://www.fcfoa.gov.au/gfi>

To confirm it is not for the registry to research and inform you of what type of application to bring to the court, rather provide administrative support.

As discussed you are encouraged to get legal assistance, you should consult a lawyer. Information about seeking legal advice can also be found on the Court's website

The Self Representation Service (which is free of charge) may also be able to assist you. To make an appointment please call (08) 9261 6389 or email fedcourtservice@legalaid.wa.gov.au

Kind regards

Good afternoon [REDACTED]

I refer to the number of emails the registry has received since Tuesday.

As per my previous email, the Court can review some decisions made under the Migration Act 1958. These include some decisions of the Minister for Immigration, Citizenship and Multicultural Affairs, the Administrative Appeals Tribunal, and the Immigration Assessment Authority. The Court can only review a decision in order to determine if a 'jurisdictional error' has been made. Further information can be found on the Federal Circuit and Family Court website: <https://www.fcftca.gov.au/gfi>

To confirm it is not for the registry to research and inform you of what type of application to bring to the court, rather provide administrative support.

As discussed you are encouraged to get legal assistance, you should consult a lawyer. Information about seeking legal advice can also be found on the Court's website

The Self Representation Service (which is free of charge) may also be able to assist you. To make an appointment please call (08) 9261 6389 or email fedcourtservice@legalaid.wa.gov.au

The issue is described as to where the Commonwealth acted unlawfully , where the Commonwealth has no powers as to refuse (and detain) an Australian Citizen , lawfully in Australia.

The matter is for the courts, Federal Magistrates court I am lead to believe.

DO NOT use my name in emails.

The decision was related to the court's position as to the refused entry into Australia lawful citizen,

The Commonwealth refused screening of a Australian Passport holder and Australian Citizen.

The act was unlawful

The limits as to advice are considerable, the Commonwealth are a part of this limitations.

The application, stands.

The decision, NOT to screen and physically refusing access past technically the border , was of some duration

It had no basis in law as to have occurred.

The error/want of the Commonwealth staff/ers is a matter for the courts.

Perth Federal court, legally unqualified staff refuse improperly and illegally as to engage in a Migration Application made to the Federal court.
NO explanation as to their reasoning (or personal positions to decline). Staff are interfering with legal matters as to sought recourse. [REDACTED]
