Yes, absolutely that's fine. Just copying in Karen so she's got tabs on who knows what.

Just get Drew to please call me before he starts and I'll talk him through things and share the documents so he has access.

cheers

Angus

And I'm going to start spelling your name correctly too from now on Darryl.

Morning Daryl
I've made a change to the opening grab in ACT PART I.

You can't see the script yet as I haven't given you access - stupid security stuff around this story.

Can I get your gmail asap so I can give you access?

I've also discovered a missing clip from the WIDE shot - my stuff up sorry - which I just sent on to Sam. Hopefully that doesn't cause too much grief.

cheers

Angus

Hi Darryl.
As well as being highly confidential, this story is a legal minefield.
I suspect there will be a lot of changes to the original cut, which will be too long anyway.
With this in mind, can I suggest that you don't waste any time fine-tuning the first edit.
All we need is a rough assembly at this stage.
