THE PNG Judiciary is hosting the Pacific Judicial Conference in Port Moresby starting today to Thursday with the theme 'Enhancing the Quality of Justice in the Pacific.'

The Pacific Judicial Conference is a high-level regional conference of chief justices from the Pacific Island nations and other jurisdictions that is held every two years.

These island nations include chief justice and representative judges from Papua New Guinea, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, Federated States of Micronesia, Guam, Kiribati, Marshall Islands, Nauru, Niue, Palau, Samoa, the Solomon Islands, Vanuatu and the USA.

These meetings have been instrumental in reinforcing the commitment to independent Judiciaries and Constitutional governments in the diverse and mostly small islands of the Pacific.

This will be the second time PNG has hosted this conference with the first being hosted in Madang Province in 2003.

The National Judicial Service of Papua New Guinea is excited about hosting this high level event.

This is an opportunity to show case Port Moresby to the international guess together with PNG's judicial system, the uniqueness of the nation's cultural diversity and the economic developments that has taken place over the years.
